Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

In today's Second Reading, St. Paul wrote: "I consider that the sufferings of this present time are as nothing compared with the glory to be revealed for us." (Romans 8:18). When saying this, St. Paul did not say it just for the sake of saying; but rather he himself was willing to accept all the sufferings that came into his life for the sake of the truths taught by Jesus Christ. Encouraged and inspired by St. Paul's words and his good example of faith in Christ, we should not be afraid of embracing the sufferings in this earthly life. We, of course, don't like suffering; however it is unavoidable because this life is not perfect, everything can go astray at anytime. We rather suffer physically, mentally or morally for the love of God and our neighbor and for the sake of Christ's teachings than betray God's love or give up our faith in Christ. Some people stop practicing their faith when facing the suffering of illness, betrayal, a loss of a loved one, or the sins of others. What we need to know is that whatever suffering it is, it will not last forever, some day it will be gone; however the glory to be revealed in heaven for those who are faithful to the end is beyond what words could describe. After all, what matters is the reward of eternal happiness in the glory of heaven. -Fr. Joe Pham

St. John Vianney (1786-1859)

Ordained a priest in 1815 and later made the parish priest of Ars, he is commonly known as the "Cure of Ars". His reputation grew as a confessor and director of souls throughout the Christian world so much that he spent many hours every day in the confessional. He lived a life of torment and mortification which resulted in him having great patience. Saint John Vianney was a true child of God in his simplicity and performed many works of charity and love guiding God's lost sheep back to the fold. He passed away on August 4, 1859 which is his Feast Day.
